

Supplementary Figure 1: Close correlation between body height on the x-axis and peroneal nerve conduction velocity (NCV) on the y-axis among our control group participants (black regression line and dots, $n = 50$). This was visually identical to the model presented by Hyllienmark et al. (1995) with $n = 128$, shown by the blue regression line.